CREAT AUTUMNAL AMUSEMENT

Glittering Attractions Being Secured for the Coming Interstate Exposition.

THE MANAGERS' STUPENDOUS TASK.

Gathering a Grand Aggregation of Manufactures, Curious Novelties and Wonders, to be Supplemented with Music and Art.

The Omaha Interstate exposition is an assured success. The remodeling and enlargement of Coliseum building is rapidly nearing completion and it will not be extravagant to state that it will prove one of the grandest and most commodious structures for this purpose in the country. To be sure the exterior of the building might be made more imposing, and that will all come in good time, but nteriorally speaking, it will be as near perfection as the limited time the new mana ment, Messrs. Roeder & Bell, have had accomplish the immense amount of work which they deem absolutely etsential to render the building at all adaptable for the colossal exposition which they have so fear-lessly taken hold of. They intend to give Omaha and the adjoining cities, towns and country a show that they have little dreamed of—an exposition embracing all of the products of this fertile region, every article of manufacture, curios, novelties and wonders, and countless attractions. tions in the way of artistic achievements, theatrical, operatic and musical events that will equal if not surpass any enterprise of a like description ever attempted in the west Mr. Roeder is already whelmid with the du ties attendant upon the securement of this ties attendant apon the securement of this glittering galaxy of delightful entertainments, and feels justified already in promising the public such an autumal season of amusement, in addition to a marvelous exhibition of the beautiful, the useful and the wonderful, for which nature and art will be about equally drawn upon to supply, as his never been their heavy forms. as has never been their happy fortune to enjoy before.
No expense is being spared to advertise the city of Omaha, which is truly the cardinal object of the affair, and which makes it a matter in which all the business world should be equally interested and equally bea-efitted. Of course this requires a great deal of money to be brought to a successful issue, adequate to the fullest fulfillment of the bus-iness men's expectations and Messrs. Roeder & Bell, are deserving of unstituted praise for the lavish and liberal and thorough and resolute way in which they have set about the stu-pendous task. There will be no failure with them, and yet the merchants and business men should come to the front and attest their apprecition of this commendable effort to help the whole, by the most generous assistance in any way that will prove mutually pleasing and beneficial.

One of the premier attractions of the great show will be a gigantic brass and reed band, comprising fifty pieces, all skilled musicians, and rendering nothing but the very highest order of music, from the most popular airs to the profundities of Beethoven and Wagner, such a band has never yet been heard in this city. a band has never yet been heard in this city. The Mechanical City, which is meant to represent the Holy City, will be another grand feature. This great work of art cost over $20,000 and was twelve years in course of construction. It is a complete city—churches, houses, public buildings, courts, avenues, streets, lames and byways, with nearly 3,000 moving pieces continuously shifting in a way that renders the scene illusory butlife-like and astounding. It is operated by electricity and is the wonder in art of this day and age.

of this day and age.

A beautiful department will be the one in which the wonders of the wax-maker's art are displayed. Here will be seen all the crowned heads of Europe and illustrations personages of both ancient and modern times.

The floral department will be a wilderness of tropical beauty, color, richness and per-fume, banks of flowers and labyriaths of slender vines, clambering, creeping and sur-mounting everyting, a reticulate mass of the delicate growths of the southern forests; shady grottees; darksome dells; odor-breathing nocks, tricking streams and plashing fountains, birds, fishes, mosses lichens, in fact everything imaginable that flora's rare kingdom can supply. The decorations will be another startlingly beauteous feature. This will all be done by special artists, who will begin their work Thursday morning next. The immense structure will be made as radiant as midday every night by thousands of electric light jets. There will be a first class restaurant, with a chef of the best repute, open night and day, and under the charge of one of our leading hotels; barber shop, bath rooms, reception and cloak rooms promenades, electrical apparatus throughout the building, and telegraphic and telephonic facilities of easy access. The whole building is to be newly painted inside and out, new entrances and exits arranged for, and in fact nothing to insure perfect and abundant suc-cess will be left undone.

Arrangements have been made with all the railroads centering here for reduced rates, and people from abroad will have transportation made so convenient and chear that they will feel enabled to make frequent visits to Omaha's greatest amusement demonstration. Frequent excursion trains will be run throughout the exposition from all the adjacent towns and cities. As to the local rapid transit, it will be most satisfactory, as the cable and motor lines will both put on extra service. A well disciplined force of building police will be constantly on dity, and every detail calculated to enhance safety, profit and enjoyment will be carefully and scrupplously attended to.

Most of Omaha's merchants have taken hold of this commendable enterprise very en-thusiastically and are vieing with each other in the elaborateness and attractiveness of their respective displays. That their returns will be abundant no one can doubt, as the exposition will afford them such an opportunity to display their beautiful and costly goods as has never been presented them before. whole business community will doubtless manifest a pride and an interest in the show that will make itself long felt and of lasting benefit to the city.

CUSHING'S CALLERS.

The People Who Occupy a Big Share of the Mayor's Days.

Frank Tuttle, private secretary to the mayor, had things all his own way yesterday in the absence of his honor. "Yes," said he, "but I'm having just about as many questions to answer as though the mayor were here." "How much time, by the way, does the mayor spend in his office every day when at home!" was asked. "He gets down here promptly at 8:30 every morning and stays until 5:30, with the ex ception of the noon hour and an errand or two outside during the day.

"Is he busy with the city work all that "Indeed he is, and right here let me tell you that you've no idea of the number of beo-ple who call to see him every day. It is al-most one continual and seemingly uneading line from the time the office opens until we close."

"What kind of questions do they ask !"
"Almost every kind conceivable. People who want to get their friends pardoned out of fail, women to complain about policemen, a neighbor to sick about some other neighbo emptying a straw tick into their back yard, man who wants to get back at some plumber and don't know how to do it. Then there's old women and old men who come to ask the mayor to give 'em 'a bit of paper' that will allow 'em to peddie little stuff from a basket on their arm. This last class is probably the most numerous of all. Nobody seems to know, until they come here and find out, that neither does the city issue any such class of licenses nor can the mayor give a permit to do so, except in cases where the party raises his own stock, which is very seldom the case. Still another class is the beggar. Talk about beggars! You don't know what it means to no besieged by beggars until you have spent a day in this office. Another class of callers who keep Mr. Cushing's right hand in almost continual motion is composed of people selling tickets to this or that entertanement. The mayor has often said that he gives away more than his salary every month in exchange for tickets. You see he is just in the very position where he must buy every ticket that he's asked to, and sometimes they grumble because he don't buy five orten, while he seldem if ever gets off with buying less than two. Personally have wondered a thousand times how he find opportunity to examine the masses of city.

But he does it, and I have yet to see the first city official or taxpayer leave this office expressing dissatisfaction by reason of the mayor not having examined such and such a paper as was his duty. In summing up the routine day in this office, I can eas-ily imagine how a man whese nerves are less deeply imbedded in good, solid flesh might go almost wild occupying the chair of mayor of Omaha for even a day."

THE JUNKET TO LINCOLN.

The Hegira of Office-Holders to the State Fair.

The offices of the city officials were described yesterday because of the general invitation to accept a free ride to Lincoln and attend the state fair. Staying at home on an occasion of this kind is very unpopular with the majority of the officials, and for this reason there were few of them missing when the west-bound train over the B. & M. pulled out at 10:15 a.m.

A few of the officials took their wives and daughters along. The majority regarded it as a day out of school that was to be enjoyed to the utmost because of its rarity and wanted no restrictions.

They swarmed on a motor car at Fourteenth and Douglas, and disported themselves like a lot of youngsters on a village green. The car was crowded, and Chairman Birkhauser of the board of public works, roosted on the rear step and amused himself by jumping off and on as the car moved slowly over the Eleventh street viaduct, vainly trying to imitate the graceful move-ments of the Union Pacific switchmen in the freight yards below.

Major Wheeler, chairman of the finance committee of the city council, dropped into his usual position as master of ceremonies, and superintended the movements of the

in a brand new suit of flannel. The following ladies accompanied the party: Mrs. Dennis, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Olson, Mrs. Whitlock and daughter, Mrs. D. H. Wheeler, jr., Mrs. Goodrich, Mrs. Hartman, Miss Pearl Hartman and her guest Miss Joe Welch of Minnesota, Miss Mary Yates and Miss Lon Johnson.

They are custom made clothing of merchant tailors, left on their hands for one reason or another. These we buy in large or small quantities, for ready cash. For example: A suit of clothes costing originally $40, we can, according to style and quality, sell for $18 or $20. Just think of it, a saving of 50 per cent, one-half of the original cost. Many of them are from the leading tailoring establishments throughout the country.

PRINTERS' INK. A JOURNAL FOR ADVERTISERS.

Is issued weekly, and is the representative journal

-the trade journal of American advertisers. It indicates to the inexperienced sivertiser how, whos, and where he should advertise; how to write as advertisement ; how to display one ; what newspapers to use : how much money to expend-in fact, discourses on every point that admits of profitable discussion. Advertising is as art practised by many but understood by few. The conductors of PRINT-ERS' INE understand it, and their savice is based on an experience of more than twenty-five years in placing advertising contracts for many of the largest

THE FIGURE "9." The figure 9 in our dates will make a long stay. No man or weman now living will ever date a Jocument without using the figure 9. It stands in the third place in 1890, where it will remain to years and then move up to second place in 1900. where it will rest for one hundred years. There is another "9" which has also come to stay. It is unlike the figure 9 in our dates in the respect that it has already moved up to first place, where it will permanently remain. It is called the "No. P' High Arm Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine. The "No. 9" was endorsed for first place by the experts of Europe at the Paris Exposition of 1830, where, after a severe-contest with the leading machines of the world, it was awarded the only Grand Prize given to family sewing machines, all others on exhibit having received lower awards of gold medals, etc. The French Government also recognized its superiority by the decoration of Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, President of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor. 'The "No. 9" is not an old machine improved upon, but is an entirely new machine, and the Grand Prize at Paris was awarded it as the grandestadvance in swing machine mechanism of the age. Those who buy it can rest assured, there for, of having the very latest and best.
